The Uniform Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act (USERRA) requires that an employee or responsible military official provide advance notice to the employer of the employee's military service. The notice may be verbal or written. Notice is not required if the giving of such notice is precluded by military necessity or is otherwise impossible or unreasonable. This policy will refer to this notice as "military activation notice".

 4. For Military Leave Periods Longer Than Ten (10) Working Days (or Eighty (80) Hours, Based on the Employee's Full-Time Equivalency (FTE)): If the military activation notice exceed the ten (10) working day (or eighty (80) hours based on the employee's Full-Time Equivalency (FTE)) paid period, and the employee would like to use available vacation to cover the excess of the military leave period, the employee must request this in writing to his/her Principal Investigator or designee.

Continuation of Health Plans during Military Leave: Under the USERRA, an employee may request to maintain his/her health insurance while on active duty for up to eighteen (18) months provided he/she pays for the employee's 40% share of the cost of healthcare insurance premiums. This is contingent on the duration of the project's status and funding.
 7. Military Leave impacts on TIAA GRA and TIAA SRA: An employee's 12 month vesting period will not be interrupted by Military Leave. All time spent on Military Leave will count towards the RCUH's "Year of Service" (computation period) 12-month and 1,000 work hours vesting requirements.
